

CALLING ALL EDUCATORS

- Are you an educator preparing for fall 2020?
- Are you concerned educators' voices are going unheard in conversations about schools reopening?
- Are you interested in sharing your voice, stories, and experiences?

If so, this study may be for you!

INTRODUCING...

THE FIRST SIX WEEKS OF SCHOOL RESEARCH STUDY

Because educators' voices are often marginalized in public discourse, this study will use audio recordings to amplify their voices and examine their unique experiences as they navigate returning back to school.

Participants will record one audio postcard per week for the first six weeks of school.

Audio postcards are engaging short stories running 3-5 minutes. They are similar to writing a paper postcard because you can describe the sights, sounds, and mood of a place or an event, but in a voice recording.

Interested in participating?

Register by visiting <https://is.gd/firstsixweeks> or by using the QR code at right.

